

Body Modification Of A Minor

General Information

Legal Information

It's a Class C misdemeanor for a piercer to pierce any minor under the age of 18 without the written consent of the child's parent or legal guardian. There's an exception for emancipated or married minors.

Liability

The Piercer shall not be held liable for actions post-piercing. These actions are at the discretion of the piercee and the recipient's legal guardian. Infection, Migration, General Damage (ripping, tearing, trauma, etc) may occur. Correctional actions are to be handled by the piercer unless the piercee deems themselves fit. In which case the piercer will not be liable for damage caused by the piercee.

Health Awareness

It is important to be aware of the potential health risks associated with body piercing such as allergic reactions, skin infections, hepatitis, prolonged bleeding, swelling, scarring and general discomfort. Existing medical conditions such as allergies, heart disease, diabetes, skin disorders or conditions that affect the immune system may increase the risk of complications from body piercing. Before providing consent for body piercing, speak with a physician regarding potential health risks for your child.

Requirement of Consent

The State of Illinois prohibits the owner, operator or employee of a body piercing studio from body piercing a person under eighteen years of age unless a parent or legal guardian provides written consent. To provide consent, the parent or legal guardian must complete and sign this form in the presence of the owner of the body piercing studio or in the presence of the studio's body piercing specialist. The original written consent will be retained by the body piercing studio and will expire twelve months from the date it was signed.
